Hello Neighbors,

My name is Mary Craddock and I have been a massage therapist for 11 years. I attended the Body Therapy Institute of Santa Barbara California and specialize in Swedish, Shiatsu and Reflexology. I work only on women of all ages, even prenatal. I am offering a special to all new clients who live in the neighborhood: a one hour massage and a cup of tea for $50. I work weekdays in my home, and every other weekend. Please feel free to call me to schedule an appointment 555-7314. I am interested in establishing a regular client here in the neighborhood and I encourage you to walk over...for your health! Have a Blessed Day,

Mary

PS...I have gift certificates!

The person who posted the previous message promoting her massage business has been deleted from the listserve. When joining this list, each person receives a message stating that all postings should be non-commercial.

I could see altering this policy for things like garage sales, but I am very skittish about the listserve being used for advertising. There's already enough spam in cyberspace. Any comments?

Hi Neighbors..I'm new to the group and just wanted to tell you about the line of supplements I have available. It's a home based business that I just started dealing with all natural vitamins and other food products.

My web site isn't up yet, but you can email me directly to get a list of all the fabulous products, descriptions and prices....everything from Echinacea to protein powders to hair enhancers and lotions and massage oils for adding sparks to your love life.

On a side note, my husband got laid off from Dell and is selling surplus farm equipment through Ebay...which I'm sure none of you are interested in. But, he did procure an entire garage full of shovels, so if you're in need of a good shovel cheap he's getting rid of them for $4 a pop!

Thanks, and hope to see you around the hood... Patty

Patty, why don't you read the rules about the list before you go peddling your commercial goods like some housewife whore gone mad on diet pills? This is blatant bs violatingg the list rules. Do you see me offering my tax services each April? And don't tell me to hit the delete button, because you fooled me into reading your message with the friendly subject line.
Supplements are the biggest rip off market, and people like you pray on codependents, the elderly, the overweight and the undersexed.

Yikes, I did just discover the group page which led me to your message, even though it wasn't on my email. Where are these rules you are talking about? And that's the rudest reply I've ever gotten in my three years on the net. Aren't there rules about using profanity, like whore.?

Maybe you need my best selling supplement for your manhood.

Using the group page avoids clutter mail like yours in my box. As for penile...Ha ha. Very funny. If you weren't a woman I'd kick the St. John's Wort out of ya until you were spitting up goldenrod. The rules explicitly state no commercial content...check out the group page for more info, if you last that long. If you haven't noticed, the list moderators don't take kindly to this kind of posting and it aint three strikes, baby. It's one. I have to say I do apologize for the "whore" part, but your business just gets my goat, as do people who can't read.

I can read fine. And gee, thanks for the apology after you threatened me physically. I have half a mind to call the authorities and direct them your way...wherever and whoever you are. But instead, why don't you meet me down on the Arroyo where the bridge crosses to the Church at 7 p.m. tomorrow. I'll knock your butt into the creek. I may be a woman, but I know you're a putz.

7 p.m. it is. Better bring one of those shovels...you'll need it.

On second thought, I've alerted officer Juarez, our neighborhood cop about your behavior, and the fact that you're trying to sell sex supplies on the net to our e-group. He said he would show up at 7 p.m. on the Arroyo to talk to us both and see if we can work out this problem. I told him I would bring a copy of the e-group rules.

You're psychotic. I never said anything about sex supplies! Fine, I know the neighborhood cop through my brother-in-law. We even play bridge together. We'll see what he thinks. Forget this...it's not worth my time. Instead, why don't we take this issue up at the next Neighborhood Association meeting...they meet the first Monday of the month, according to the web site. I'm sure they could clarify things.

Subject: Neighborhood Association

Hi,

I'm the listserve administrator for the Neighborhood Association listserve (e-group). Due to the recent traffic on the BNA listserve, I have taken the following steps:
1) I terminated "Patty" for marketing supplements
2) I have temporarily changed the posting policy from "unmoderated" to "moderated." This means, that for a while at least, all messages will be subject to my approval.

Please do not engage in any tit-for-tat kind of name-calling on the listserve. As the list administrator, I am capable of dealing with inappropriate postings myself.

If a posting is not of some kind of general interest to everyone on the group, then it probably shouldn't be posted. Please keep that as a rule of thumb.

I try to keep volume on the listserve low, and as free of chat and spam as possible. If the volume is too much or irrelevant, people will unsubscribe.

Thanks for your cooperation,

Jim Gorgan
Listserve Administrator
