

Sign Up Now for the Enemy Combatant Pen Pal Club!

As part of the The U.S. Department of Defense operation--codenamed Uncertain Daylight--the U.S. Government is now accepting applications for the Enemy Combatant Pen Pal Club! We realize that indefinite imprisonment can be stressful. So what better way to help combatants than with personal words from real Americans.

Be the first on your block to correspond with a known terrorist...
Even if you don't know who they are!

How to Join!

1. Simply go online to www.write-a-terrorist.com and complete the online form.
2. Fill out an online profile about yourself, your family, your employer and other details about your life.
3. You'll be assigned your own pen pal. Please note that since their identities must remain confidential, you'll get a nick name to write -- such as Abdul 4562.
4. Sign off on a Terms of Agreement form that notes, in part:

* All correspondence will be examined in detail, and any information you or your pen pal share will be scanned and input into a database.

* The FBI may, from time to time, make site visits to your home for routine chats.

"Hi, I'm Abdul 2321. I hail from [deleted] and my hobbies are Modified Honda Civics and goat taxidermy. Won't you write me today and let me know how great it is to live in the Land of the Free?"

"My son Ali Mushaad Kazi may or may not be imprisoned by the Americans. Won't you take the time to send a note to him, if he's where I think he might be?"

Because of the limited number of enemy combatants, your online profile will be graded to determine if you receive a pen pal. Evangelical Christians are given preference if they agree to pray for the combatants and their souls.
